THE WEEKLY NATIONAL REPUBLICAN general news of the week, including the extremity. There is not dazzle enough to proceedings of the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati. It is a cheap and large campaign paper.

New Yorkers now here insist that they can by no possibility beat Mr. Wheeler in the Empire State, unless either Horatio Seymour or Gov. Tilden are nominated to the first place on their ticket at St. Louis. The truth is, that they have no hope at all of defeating our ticket without the aid of New York, and they know they cannot carry that State except by raising immense sums of money. They say they can raise millions for Seymour or Tilden, but they cannot get donations for a foreign

IT IS GRATIFYING to see that most of the New York independent and "reform" press declare the nominees of the Republican party at Cincinnati to be quite satisfactory. The exceptions are the Sun and the Evening Post, but one of these is an organ. Neither of them could hardly be good omen that they both range themthus than to have their lukewarm support.

THE DEMOCRATS had built largely upon the expectation of division in our ranks, but the ticket put forth at Cincinnati has united all cliques and clans of Republicans in its support, including such Liberals as-Carl Schurz and Reuben E. Fenton and their associates. This fact carries dismay into the Democratic ranks. And then, the try, which has been opposing the present Administration, has given in its adhesion to the ticket with such cordial and enthusiastic unanimity that the last hope of dissensions has disappeared.

THE KU KLUN KLANS Of Laurens county, S. C., are again rampant. Hon. Y. J. Owens while at Cincinnati last week received a telegram informing him that a body of lawless Democrats of that county had on a few days previous waited upon a worthy citizen named Smith, and taking him from his house into the public highway, put a rope around his neck and dragged him up several times until his tongue protruded from his mouth. It appears that Mr. Smith was a Democrat until the murder of the six negroes in Edgefield county about a month since. That act, together with the murdering of Legislators Crews, Rush and Perrin, seems to have induced Mr. Smith to sever his connection with the Democracy, and the murderous assault made upon him was one of the means employed to enforce Ku-Klux arguments. Mr. Smith only saved his life by promising to renounce Republicanism. And so it appears that things are fast going from bad to worse in South Carolina. With all the reputed maladministration of Moses, he managed to protect citizens from such outrages as that imposed upon Mr.

IT WILL be seen by a reference to notices elsewhere that there is to be a rousing ratification meeting to-night of the old sort. The District Republicans and the various State associations will unite in a grand Haves and Wheeler. We hope that every to-night and lend his efforts to make the low. He has been defiantly released in voice of the National Capital heard throughout the length and breadth of the land. The best speakers in the country now here have been invited to address the multitude upon the issues of the campaign, including some of the late candidates, and it may be expected that the speeches delivered will form the key-note of that irrepressible to such a question. They will indignantly part it is proposed to march to his residence and complement him with a sere- unless it be as an enemy. nade. It is hoped that there will be a grand illumination of the residences and places of business of Republicans, especially on the line of march. This should be one of unanimous, uniform and emphatic indorsement of the ticket and platform.

A BOMB EXPLOSION.

President Grant threw a bombshell into the House of Representatives on Saturday quite innocently. In conformity with his duty as laid down in the Constitution he informed Congress that there appeared iraminent danger that the Executive would be without means to carry on the Government at the beginning of the next fiscal year. He also modestly suggested a practical method of avoiding such a disaster by temporary expedient. The message created no excitement in the Senate, but in the House the Democratic leaders were at once the victims of self-accusing consciences. Randall, Holman, Cox and Wood hastened to tell the country that the President was attempting to coerce legislation, that there was no danger that the appropriations would not be made in time, and that the President was guilty of an impeachable offense for thus informing Congress that the Executive was likely to be without the means to carry on the Government. But Gen. Hurlbut, Mr. Kasson and Mr. Kelley successfully pricked these Demo cratic, demagogical bubbles, and not only neatly exposed the weakness and falsity of the charges made against the President of interfering with the prerogatives of the House, but completely turned the tables upon the Appro- already struck the Democracy as a sharp colic priations Committee by having the rule of pang strikes a small boy in green apple time. the House read which requires that com- Wish both hands clasped in agony across its within thirty days of the meeting of Congress in December or make known to the House the reason for delay. It was shown that six and a half months had transpired and all the bills were not yet out of the committee. No valid excuse was rendered for this long delay. . The people, however, will understand that it has been caused by the numerous and senseless investigations which have been carried on at enormous expense for the purpose of making false political capital in the hope of diverting the public mind from the unholy machinations of the ex-Confederate House. The debate resulted in the triumph of the Republicans, as usual, and a complete vindication of the President. His message was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

THE FORLORN HOPE.

The result of the Cincinnati Convention has carried wide-spread dismay throughout the Democratic party. The Republicans, with a platform of principles adapted to the wants and interests of the nation, and a candidate who is the incarnation of integrity, patriotism and wise policy, started from the door of their convention on the highway to victory. The impregnability of the Republican position and the invincibility of its ticket fills the Democratic camp with fear and trembling. In this extremity theleaders of the Democratic party, from Louisiana to Maine and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, are shouting the name of Hancock in full chorus as the only man who can inspire their party with the slightest hope of success in the opening campaign. This trepidation is but the precursor of defeat. The name of Hancock has no charm which will give victory to the tattered and disloyal remnants of the Democratic party. While the loyal people honor him for what he has done to save the Union from overthrow when assailed by rebellion, they will never trust him when backed and urged by those very men who confronted him on the field of is now ready for delivery, containing the | battle, and surrendered only in the direct Hancock's military prestige to cover the history of the rebellion with forgetfulness to an extent that will allow the ex-Confederates to march on to victory even under his leadership. If Gen. Hancock is a man of as much sense as we give him credit for, he will not allow himself to be captured 'now by this rebel yell. He will never consent to become the candidate of a party which has no power or vitality beyond that derived from the late Confederate States. He must understand that while the people might be willing to trust him per se they never can yield him their confidence while he is in the hands and under the control of the bitter enemies of the Government. No matter what pretences of loyalty and good intentions toward the unity and peace of the nation the followers of Hancock might set up now to delude and deceive, the loyal people of the nation cannot overlook the spirit that has entered the present House of Representatives and again put the Gov-Ishmaelite and the other is the free trade | ernment in peril. In the hands of these men he would be a mere child and playexpected to support the Republican ticket | thing. They would lead and control him in any event, and it may be considered a as they have Cox, Randall, Morrison, Wood, Holman, Kerr and other Northern selves with the Opposition. Far better Democrats during the present session of Congress, until they have brought them and the country to a crisis nearly akin to rebellion itself. History on this point is too fresh in the public mind to be forgotten,

What the country has to fear is that unsubdued spirit of rebellion which has been brought into Congress by such men as Hill, Independent Press in all parts of the coun- Lamar, Blackburn, Singleton and a host of Lamar, Blackburn, Singleton and a host of others, and who have conspired against the National welfare, and further as far as them.

National welfare, and further as far as them. National welfare, and fought, as far as they have dared to effect within the Government what they failed to accomplish on the battlefield of treason. The issue of this contest is much like that of 1861. While the North has exercised great patience towards the enemies of the Union and forgiven much that never should have been forgiven, and while Republicans would have let by-gones be by-gones, these ex-Confederates in this Congress would not permit it. They have kept old issues alive by bringing an inharmonious spirit to the seat of Government to foment dissension, insult the loval sentiment of the country in the most offensive manner, and unsettle whatever feeling of respect and forbearance time had spread over the nation. They may thank themselves for it if the "bloody shirt" is shaken in their faces, and the bloody chasm remains unbridged in this Congress. They have provoked their fate, and a thousand Hancocks cannot save them from defeat.

GENERAL GRANT'S foreign policy has been from the beginning of his Presidency pre eminently that of peace. He has preferred arbitration of the pen over that of the sword, and the nation has applauded him for it. But Great Britain should not presume too far upon our reaceful inclinations. We shall find a method of resenting deliberate, studied and persistent insults. When foreign powers deliberately disregard their treaty obligations with as without first notifying us of their desire to discontinue them as provided in the comdemonstration to set the ball in motion for | pact, we shall find a means of resenting it. It is no longer a question between us and Republican in the District will come out | Great Britain as to the surrender of Winsviolation of treaty stipulations. The question now is, can we consistently continue to sustain diplomatic relations with a nation which avows by her acts that she will only regard her treaty obligations when it pleases her so to do? The American people have but one answer to make onset which will terminate in victory next | refuse to maintain such one-sided diplo-November. If Mr. Blaine is unable to take | matic relations. EDITORIAL POSTSCRIPT. Hip, hip, hurrah! for Hayes and Wheeler now, to-night and all the time.

Let the boys in blue and the Republican party in general rally around City Hall tonight at the great mass meeting.

A man cannot go down on an orange peel and get up to 'rah for his Creator with any kind of enthusiasm this oppressive weather. The ratification meeting to-night promises to be a thorough and rousing affair. Your country calls you. Turn out, dust up and be

Every good Republican will turn out tonight to attend the ratification meeting at City Hall and make it a demonstration of which the party may well be proud.

General Comly, of the Ohio State Journal, shows his electrified enthusiasm over the nomination of Governor Haves in a column of the most pungent and pithy paragraphs we have read for many a day.

An imperial photograph of Gov. Tilden scared a drove of sheep pell mell into a hatch-way in St. Louis the other day. He is worth several millions, but the girl has not been found yet that would take him personal and real. . 35

On all sides one now meets long-faced Democrats, who see plainly the handwriting on the wall, which unmistakably proclaims that not for four years, at least, will the Democracy be enabled to get their arms into the national flesh-pots.

The result of the Cincinnati convention has

A writer claims that a beautiful female foot should be one seventh of the height of the ledy. There is a lady in this city who is beautiful and seven feet three inches in height, therefore her foot should be twelve inches and three sevenths in length. Whew I take a whole side of calf skin for each trotter.

Since the nomination of the strong and success-giving ticket at Cincinuati the Democratic press generally have sent up a foud and earnest cry for "Hancock, Hancock, give us Hancock or we die." The probabilities are that they will die, Hancock or no Hancock, for it is so written by the hand of an unalterable and determined fate. .

Wm. Burchardt, esq., representing the German Republicans at the German Republican Convention in Cincinnati, have just returned in good health to this city, after a hard and successful work for the cause. Messrs, Wolf and Behle should by all means be invited to address the ratification meeting, if it has not been done heretofore, both gentlemen being good and fluent English speakers.

Southern Republicans rejoice at the recent nominations at Cincinnati. They will, at least, be protected for the next four years from Democratic misrule and hate. Next to our illustrious President, General Grant, there is no one who could have filled the Southern bill so effectively as Governor Hayes and Congressman Wheeler. They are ready to Wheel er into line.

There are one million one thousand one hundred and one reasons why the Republican party should still control the national affairs of the Government, out of which we select the following: 1. It represents the intelligence and loyalty of the nation. 2. It is the champion of free education and an advocate of the rights of labor. 3. It preserved the Republic in face of the PAUL HERSH, Chairman.
